

Written consent for privacy policy

Dear Patient:

The new General Data Protection Regulation (DSGVO) becomes effective on May 25, 2018. It complements amongst other things dental confidentiality. Because of this we are committed to asking all patients to sign a written consent to safely store your data.

If you contact us the information you provide will be saved and stored for the purpose of processing the request, and for possible follow- up questions.

We save your personal data for documentation for a smooth treatment process. We pass on your data only with your consent to third parties.*

Your right to information, correction, deletion and protest:

You have the right to receive the information about your personal data saved by us at any time. As well, you have the right to correct and delete your personal information, except for the prescribed information statutory retention periods (10 years) of data storage.

Change of our privacy policy

We have the right to change this privacy policy from time to time to ensure it complies with current legal requirements.

With my signature, I agree that my data will be stored and if necessary, passed on with my consent
